RESOLUTION ON THE NATIONAL PROGRAMME FOR EQUAL
OPPORTUNITIES FOR
WOMEN AND MEN, 2005-2013

Abstract description (EN):

The Resolution on the National Programme for Equal Opportunities for Women and Men is a strategic document which defines objectives and measures as well as key policy makers for the promotion of gender equality in different areas of life of women and men in the Republic of Slovenia in the period 2005 - 2013. The fundamental goal is to improve the status of women and/or ensure sustainable development in the realisation of gender equality. Concrete tasks and activities for the achievement of the objectives and implementation of measures shall be determined in periodic plans, which are drawn up every two years and stipulate into more detail the timetable and manner of implementation of separate tasks and activities. The main purpose of the Resolution on the National Programme for Equal Opportunities for Women and Men is to set out general priorities for the improvement of the situation of women or to ensure sustainable development of gender equality. On the basis of an analysis of the situation, the Resolution on the National Programme for Equal Opportunities for Women and Men defines principal policy orientations of the equal opportunities policy in all key areas of social life. These areas include gender mainstreaming, work, knowledge-based society, social
